Mr. J. H. HORSBY, of Pacific Ave., Santa Cruz, Cal., writes:

"When a girl at school, in the fall, I had a severe attack of diphtheria. On my recovery, I found my throat perfect, but, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently affected. Friends urged me to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair began to grow, and I now have as fine a head of hair as one could wish for, being clean, lustrous, and free from dandruff."

"After a fit of sickness, my hair came out in combfalls. I used two bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now my hair is over a yard long and very full and heavy. I have recommended this preparation to others with the good effect."—Mrs. Sidney Carr, 1400 Eighth St., Harrisburg, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years and always obtained satisfactory results. I know it is the best preparation for the hair that is made."

LETTER FROM PARIS.

Written by T. R. Congdon to His Relatives and friends in America.

Through the courtesy of John C. Congdon we are enabled to produce the following letter which has been written by T. R. Congdon, formerly a resident of Brainerd, but who is now studying art in the schools of Paris. The letter is so lengthy that it will necessarily have to be divided and will be produced from week to week until it is finished.

PARIS, FRANCE, Jan. 1, 1894.

Ten years ago if my friends should have told me I would go abroad to study art I should have said "impossible." To go abroad has always seemed to me a journey to be accomplished by the wealthy and learned class, more for the sake of being able to say "I have been abroad" rather than a desire to acquire knowledge. Such were my ideas before I began the study of art seriously and I believe such thoughts are still in the minds of many of my friends and readers. Allow me to say I never had a desire to go abroad, but for some object, viz: to complete my searchings for knowledge among those whom are the giants of my profession—the Europeans. Just how I could accomplish the great undertaking I could not dare not stop to consider, for with no rich relative or influential friend to put into my hands the means, as ninety per cent of artists have had, I could only wait, work and hope, trusting in that some kind of guidance that has enabled me to study in New York for six years to carry me safely to my journey's end, believing that God never gave man a desire to do what he is not fitted to do.

To accomplish it. Having given six years to the work of laying a firm foundation, I now for the first time feel ready to go abroad to develop myself as far as time and money will permit, to study and observation will do. I hope to remain abroad for three years and expect many shadows to cross my path ere I put foot on American soil. But no great battle will ever come without its hardships. I should like very much to travel while abroad and hope to spend one year visiting Rome, Naples, Venice and if possible Egypt.

PREPARATION.

It was during the month of August 1883 that I began to see my way clear for this trip, and as time went on I began to feel that I was not only a student, but a man of letters. I should like very much to travel while abroad and hope to spend one year visiting Rome, Naples, Venice and if possible Egypt.

The story that Mrs. Palmer is to write a history of woman's work at the world's fair is calculated to evoke a panic stricken outcry that the fair historian will suppress the history of that part of the feminine work constituting the demonstration of female ability to conduct very lively debates at the world's fair.

Mrs. Sarah Grand, whose "Heavenly Twins" is only now being thrown from hand to hand in the thick of discussion, is a remarkable woman. Man is never so helpless as in an earthquake. He can dodge convulsions of the soil and even though he could in a tornado he can sometimes hold on if he can get a grip on the earth. But when the earth and the rocks are convulsed there is no hope for him in the present undeveloped state of aerial navigation. The people of Greece are to be pitted.

It is confidently believed that petroleum has been struck in Somersetshire, England, in such a manner as will pay for working. The discovery of oil was made some weeks ago, and experts have been making experiments in the region. Professor Redwood, the "chief petroleum expert in England," says better results have been attained the experiments than have been noted in some of the best American oil fields.

Since his retirement Mr. Gladstone has received many hundreds of tributes from admirers all over the United Kingdom, and the gifts are still pouring in. He has received several dozen walking canes and umbrellas. A number of admirers clubbed together and sent him a handsome armchair, and many more pretensions presents have come to him. The tributes have been entirely spontaneous, no suggestion of such a thing having been made in the newspapers until their number became notable.

One of the little known curiosities of the far west side, in New York is a tiny restaurant where the walls are completely papered with play bills. Nearly all are highly fringed in oak, and they are hung so close together that no cracks show between the frames. Along with them hang portraits of actors and actresses. One of these is a somewhat rare engraving of Ada Rehan in early youth. The proprietor is the son of a former restaurateur, who at Newark, N. J., whose place was frequented by actors. The son was thirty-five years in collecting his treasures, and for more than twenty years they have been displayed on the walls of this obscure little restaurant. Billy Birch, the retired minstrel, visits the place once or twice a week, and other theatrical men drop in now and then.

STRIKE IS SETTLED

THE GREAT NORTHERN MEN WIN THEIR FIGHT.

Dr. H. H. Concedes Nearly All of the Demands of the Men, and President Debs, of the Railway Union, Declares the Strike Off.

St. Paul, April 28.—The Great Northern strike has been settled. The men have won nearly all of their demands, and the strike has been declared off.

President Debs was seen by a reporter just after the committee adjourned, and he was asked what was the situation, he replied:

Everything is at a standstill in the Great Northern yards in this city. The men have won nearly all of their demands, and the strike has been declared off.

The notice of the Dispatch has been called by a subscriber to the careless use of firearms by boys in the city. An instance is recalled where a lad in the presence of other smaller children was shooting at a mark with a revolver in an alley in the second ward, and it is but a matter of time if such things are allowed to go on, that some one will be seriously injured if not killed outright. Parents should see that their boys do not have revolvers, and the authorities should investigate such reports and act accordingly.

The Grand Rapids Magnet says that during the past winter D. M. Gunn has been quietly but effectively at work negotiating for the necessary means to rebuild the Hotel Pokegama which was so unfortunately destroyed by fire in March, 1893. On account of the stringency in the money market, Mr. Gunn has been delayed in perfecting his arrangements. But through the assistance of several of the lumbermen he has succeeded in getting his business affairs in such shape as to begin the rebuilding of his hotel at once, providing nothing unforeseen transpires to interfere. And it is going to be a daisy. No ginger bread affair, but a handsome structure that would ornament any town five times the size of Grand Rapids.

Frank Carlton, a river driver claiming Brainerd as his home made a great stir at Wadena, claiming to have found two dead men and a dog with a hunting and trapping outfit in a cabin in the forest in upper Cass county. He was afterwards arrested for burglary and finally confessed the story to be a fake. The sheriff, coroner, and a posse of men from Wadena hunted two days for the cabin, but of course, couldn't find it.

The Norwegian citizens of Brainerd have decided to celebrate their independence day, May 17th, and A. Mahlum, M. J. Quam and J. M. Johnson, have been appointed a committee on arrangements. The notice of the DISPATCH has been called by a subscriber to the careless use of firearms by boys in the city. An instance is recalled where a lad in the presence of other smaller children was shooting at a mark with a revolver in an alley in the second ward, and it is but a matter of time if such things are allowed to go on, that some one will be seriously injured if not killed outright. Parents should see that their boys do not have revolvers, and the authorities should investigate such reports and act accordingly.

The Grand Rapids Magnet says that during the past winter D. M. Gunn has been quietly but effectively at work negotiating for the necessary means to rebuild the Hotel Pokenama which was so unfortunately destroyed by fire in March, 1893. On account of the stringency in the money market, Mr. Gunn has been delayed in perfecting his arrangements. But through the assistance of several of the lumbermen he has succeeded in getting his business affairs in such shape as to begin the rebuilding of his hotel at once, providing nothing unforeseen transpires to interfere. And it is going to be a day. No ginger bread affair, but a handsome structure that would ornament any town five times the size of Grand Rapids.

Hon. G. W. Holland will hold court at Grand Rapids next week.

Lynch will be invited to deliver addresses on Memorial Day. The exercises at the cemetery and the decoration of the graves will take place in the forenoon, while the speaking and exercises at the park will occur in the afternoon. The city schools will be asked to assist and W. A. M. Johnson will drill a company of school boys to march on the occasion. The evangelistic meetings in Gardner Hall are a great success. Over 800 were present Sunday evening, Monday night, in spite of the rain, an immense audience, the majority of whom were men, gathered to listen to Mr. Hunt's experience as he told how he was led to give up a lucrative law practice to engage in evangelistic work. The most marked feature is the character of the audience. All classes, religious denominations and nationalities are gathered to hear the gospel. Never was there such unity among the churches and Christian people. In the testimony meetings all alike testify to the saving power of Christ. All have remarked the good order and the close attention given to the speaker and the reverential spirit manifested by all present. The interest is growing and deepening. The joy of the Christian life is particularly emphasized by Mr. Hunt. The programme for the coming week is as follows:

Friday night, the Power of Choice. No meetings Saturday.
Sunday at 2 p. m., children's meeting, "Daniel." Special music.
Sunday night, men's meeting, "Salvation."

Women's meeting at the Methodist church at the same hour.
Monday night, Christ before Pilate, legally considered.
Tuesday night, How long halt ye between two opinions?

Wednesday, all day meeting, "Naaman."
Thursday evening "God is calling ye."

Friday evening "Why should the work cease?"
Bible readings take place at 3 p. m. daily, excepting Saturday and Sunday. Good Gospel songs are sung at all these services.

Brainerd & Northern Minnesota Sold. An order was granted by Judge Russell this morning authorizing the sale of the Northern Trust Company of the stock of the lumbering road leading from the Northern Mill Company's plant to the lumbering region at Spider Lake. It was shown by the testimony of C. A. and Geo. S. Pillsbury that the road had no commercial value except as a lumber road. The stock of the road had been held as collateral by J. S. Pillsbury & Co., and the sale of the road to the big lumbering syndicate recently formed by Nelson, Tenny & Co., Carpenter Bros., E. W. Backus and others. This syndicate has purchased the land and the road would be of use to them only. The price agreed upon between the parties is $275,000, less the debts incurred in the construction of the road. Possession of the road is to be given Aug. 1, and $25,000 to be paid at that time, deferred payments bearing 5 per cent.—Minneapolis Journal.

The Pioneer Press, always abreast of the times, has reduced its subscription rates just one-half. The new rate on the daily and Sunday editions is but 50c. per month, $5.00 per annum, in advance; for the daily without Sunday, 40c. per month, $4.00 per annum in advance; Sunday only, $1.50 per annum, in advance, 50c. for three months. The Pioneer Press is now the cheapest metropolitan newspaper in the country. Its high standard will be thoroughly maintained, and, in view of the largely increased circulation which it will assuredly have, it has entered into arrangements to even greatly improve the paper. Every one can now afford to have a daily paper, as it costs but a cent and a fraction per day. All orders should be addressed to the Pioneer Press, St. Paul, Minn.

Bids for Work on County Road.

H. PATTERSON.

May.

This month, the fifth in our calendar, was the third with the Romans. The origin of the name is somewhat doubtful, but the best etymology seems to show that it is derived from the goddess Maia, the mother of Mercury, that swift messenger of this month, in one respect they deemed it to be unlucky,—to contract marriages in May. In our mother-land of England, from time almost immemorial, the first day of May has been a time for floral festivities, and innocent out-of-door jollity. During Cromwellian times the severe sectaries abolished the may pole dances and did all what they could to turn the world into what they declared it to be,—a vale of tears. Happily that day of prejudice and bigotry has passed, and we welcome the month of flowers, as we should, a charming gift from the Creator. Travel in the Northwest is never pleasanter than in this month, and no part of this section is more attractive than the beautiful valley of the upper Mississippi. A journey along the east bank of this picturesque river, if taken in the elegant fast trains of the Burlington Route, will always be a pleasant memory. For tickets, maps and any information, apply to your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul.

One of the little known curiosities of the west side, in New York is a tiny restaurant where the walls are completely papered with play bills. Nearly all are lightly framed in oak, and they are hung so close together that no cracks show between the frames. Along with them hang portraits of actors and actresses. One of these is a somewhat rare engraving of Ada F. Han in early youth. The proprietor is the son of a former restaurant keeper at Newark, N. J., whose place was frequented by actors. The son was thirty-five years in collecting his treasures, and more than twenty years they have been displayed on the walls of this obscure little restaurant. Billy Birch, the retired minstrel, visits the place once or twice a week, and other theatrical men drop in now and then.

On account of the stringency in the money market, Mr. Gunn has been delayed in perfecting his arrangements. But through the assistance of several of the lumbermen he has succeeded in getting his business affairs in such shape as to begin the rebuilding of his hotel at once, providing nothing unforeseen transpires to interfere. And it is going to be a daisy. No ginger bread affair, but a handsome structure that would ornament any town five times the size of Grand Rapids.

Brainerd & Northern Minnesota Sold.

An order was granted by Judge Russell this morning authorizing the sale by the Northern Trust Company of the stock of the lumbering road leading from the Northern Mill Company's plant to the lumbering region at Spider Lake. It was shown by the testimony of C. A. and Geo. S. Pillsbury that the road had no commercial value except as a lumber road, and the stock of the road had been sold as collateral by J. S. Pillsbury & Co., and the sale of the road to the big lumbering syndicate recently formed by Nelson, Tenny & Co., Carpenter Bros., E. W. Backus and others. This syndicate has purchased the land and the road would be of use to them only. The price agreed upon between the parties is $275,000, less the debts incurred in the construction of the road. Possession of the road is to be given Aug. 1, and $25,000 to be paid at that time, deferred payments bearing 5 percent—Minneapolis Journal.

The Evangelistic Meetings.

The evangelistic meetings in Garden Hall are a great success. Over 800 were present Sunday evening, Monday night, in spite of the rain, an immense audience, the majority of whom were men, gathered to listen to Mr. Hunt's experience as he told how he was led to give up an lucrative law practice to engage in evangelistic work. The most marked feature is the character of the audience. All classes, religious denominations and nationalities are gathered to hear the gospel. Never was there such unity among the churches and Christian people. In the testimony meetings all alike testify to the saving power of Christ. All have remarked the good order and the close attention given to the speaker and the reverent spirit manifested by all present. The interest is growing and deepening. The joy of the Christian life is particularly emphasized by Mr. Hunt. The programme for the coming week is as follows:

Friday night, the Power of Choice. No meetings Saturday.

Sunday at 2 p. m., children's meeting, "Daniel." Special music.

Sunday night, men's meeting, "Salvation."

Women's meeting at the Methodist church at the same hour.

Monday night, Christ before Pilate, legally considered.

Tuesday night, How long halt ye between two opinions?

Wednesday, all day meeting, "Nathan."

Thursday evening "God is calling yet."

Friday evening "Why should the work cease?"

Bible readings take place at 3 p. m. daily, excepting Saturday and Sunday. Good Gospel songs are sung at all these services.

Bids for Work on County Road.

H. PATTERSON.

May.

This month, the fifth in our calendar, was the third with the Romans. The origin of the name is somewhat doubtful, but the best etymology seems to show that it is derived from the goddess Maia, the mother of Mercury, that swift messenger of this month, in one respect they deemed it to be unlucky,—to contract marriages in May. In our mother-land of England, from time almost immemorial, the first day of May has been a time for floral festivities, and innocent out-of-door jollity. During Cromwellian times the severe statutes abolished the many-pole dances, and did all they could to turn the world into what they declared it to be,—a vale of tears. Happily that day of prejudice and bigotry has passed, and we welcome the month of flowers, as we should, a charming gift from the Creator. Travel in the Northwest is never pleasanter than in this month, and no part of this section is more attractive than the beautiful valley of the upper Mississippi. A journey along the east bank of this picturesque river, if taken in the elegant fast trains of the Burlington Route, will always be a pleasant memory. For tickets, maps and any information, apply to your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul.
